Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) Diversity and Inclusion Campus Climate Survey

Announcement

VCU will administer two campus climate surveys (Student and Faculty/Staff) this spring semester, and we are encouraging all campus members to participate in their respective survey and provide their viewpoints about our campus community.

Date of Surveys: April 11, 2016 to April 29, 2016

Type of Survey: The online surveys are voluntary and your feedback is anonymous.

What they will assess? The surveys will assess student, faculty, and staff member's perceptions of campus community, culture, and institutional climate and practice for diversity and inclusion in order to assess the learning, living, and working environments at VCU. The results of these two climate studies are intended to help identify issues that the University can address in order to enhance the experience and success of all its members.

The student and the faculty/staff climate surveys are a collaborative initiative and were developed by members of VCU’s Council for Inclusive Excellence and Equity with support from key University offices and units.

Results of the surveys will be shared in fall 2016. Over the coming months, we look forward to an in-depth study of our campus climate data so that we can continue conversations and develop actions to foster a more welcoming, inclusive, and supportive climate for each and every member of our diverse campus community.

Thank you for participating in this important effort. We care about the well-being of our entire campus community, and value the perspectives and insights you have shared with us.
